The daughters of a man killed in a motor vehicle collision in central Missouri reached a $2.5 million settlement, according to their attorney.

Gary Burger of Burger Law said the March 12, 2020 crash occurred while the decedent was traveling northbound on Missouri Highway 5. The defendant driver was driving southbound and lost control of his vehicle while trying to light a cigarette, crossing into Burger's client's lane.

The front passenger side of the defendant's truck struck the front of the decedent's truck at more than 60 miles per hour. Burger said the impact left gouge marks in the road and caused his client's vehicle to spin clockwise 180 degrees.

no indication that he swerved, turned, slowed or took any action to avoid the collision.

According to Burger, the police report indicated that the defendant driver had a significant amount of marijuana in his system several hours after the collision which apparently compromised his ability to take action to avoid this collision.

The man's family alleged that the collision occurred as a direct result of the negligence of the defendant driver and the negligent hiring, training and supervision of his employer. The case was resolved through mediation in May.
